Dear Mung:-

I am sending herewith our Fern paper galley with the corrections indicated as far as I can find them. Weatherly asks that we get the paper back to him (in connection) as soon as possible so work as fast as you can and mail to him direct.

Going over the paper I note many awkward or ungrammatical sentences. I fear that our method of composing our M.S. is not conducive to good expression. We must be more careful next time. I have ventured to ~~to~~ indicate changes at several points & if agreeable to you ~~indicate them~~ glue them in in instead of the rejected parts. I fear that we will have to pay something for mulling up the galley but all the changes & additions seem desirable to me. However go over the paper and check me up and add your quota of corrections. Must close this note now but will write you at length in next few days.
